Raleigh Club Men
Enjoy Themselves
At Annual Dance

Raleigh Club members, with C.Y.O. girls from nearby towns as their guests, staged their annual dance Feb. 7 at the Rensselaer Armory.

Neighboring C. Y. O. Girls Guests Of Club For Event

Approximately one hundred young ladies from the C.Y.O. chapters of Whiting, Fowler, Kentland, and Rensselaer, Indiana, joined together with St. Joe students on Saturday evening, February 7, to make a rousing success of the third annual Raleigh Club dance.

Arriving on the campus at 7:30, the girls were served a buffet lunch of sandwiches, coffee and cocoa. Then they met their prospective dates who ushered them over to the fieldhouse to attend the basketball game between St. Joe and James Millikin.

Dance At Armory

Following the game the couples were transported by bus to the Armory which was decorated colorfully with red, yellow, white, and purple crepe streamers and balloons. The dancers were immediately greeted by the smooth and rhythmic melodies of the student swing band, the Sultans of Jive, and were presented with small heart-shaped favors.

Dancing and refreshments were enjoyed from 10:00 until 12:45. At 1:00 sharp the busses with the girls left; the boys found their way back to the campus where they were due at 1:30.

Chaperones for the dance included the Rev. Stephan Tater, Mrs. Margaret Kasper, and Mrs. Mary Staucet, all of Whiting; Mr. and Mrs. LeSage, of Fowler; Mr. and Mrs. R. Conley and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dienhart, of Rensselaer.

New Equipment Added To Noll Hall Study

Last week Noll Hall was supplied with some articles which its students have desired for a long time.

The study hall has received an automatic pencil sharpener, and the locker room has become lined with benches from Turner Hall.

Father Schon has promised Brother Henry an electric clock to be installed some time this week.

Famous Harpist Plays Concert Here Feb. 18

George Lyons, internationally known harp soloist, will appear here Wednesday evening, Feb. 18, on the stage of the College Theatre in a program of concert and comic harp selections.

Lyons has been the featured soloist with Rudy Valee, Paul White-man, and Jack Hylton's symphony orchestra of London.

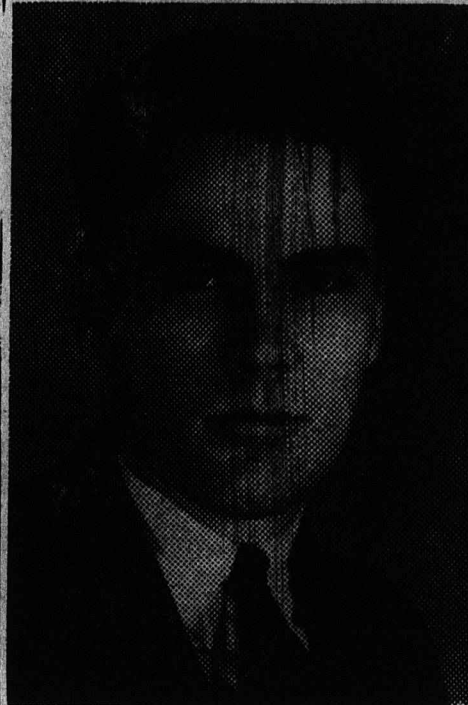

His other performances include the headlined spot in America's biggest stage show, produced on the stage of New York's Roxy Theatre. Roxy audiences liked Lyons' work so well that they held him over for an additional four weeks.

Made Three World Tours

Since beginning his career as a concert harpist ten years ago, Lyons has made three world tours that included appearances in all the principal countries and capitals of Europe.

For his show here, which will feature sparkling comedy and character numbers, as well as singing harp classics, Mr. Lyons will bring his own specially designed harp, valued at $2,500.

Jim Ikovic First
Of '42 Graduates
To Be A Husband

James Ikovic

Wedding bells will ring on Saturday morning, February 14, in St. Joseph's Catholic church of Hammond, Indiana, for James Ikovic, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ikovic of 824 Pierce street, Hammond, and Miss Lucille Kolb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Kolb of 44 Lawndale, Hammond.

The couple will be attended by Mr. Clarence Schreiner, a high school classmate of Jim's, as best man and Miss Wilamine Schmal as the maid of honor. Miss Frances Hagen and Miss Marion Lennertz will serve as bridesmaids, while the Messrs. Jerome, Clarence, and Robert Kolb, brothers of the bride, will usher. Two other brothers of the bride, Gerald and Virgil, will serve at the Nuptial Mass.

Jim, recent graduate of St. Joseph's and editor of the 1941-42 Phase, is employed as a standards checker in the engineering department of the Gary Mills, Gary, Ind. Mr. and Mrs. Ikovic will reside at 824 Pierce street, Hammond.

Men From 20 To 45 Must Sign For Duty With Armed Forces

All St. Joe students who have not registered previously under the Selective Service Act and who have reached their twentieth birthday on or before Dec. 31, 1941, must register next Monday, Feb. 16.

Registration, which will be under the direction of Earl L. Hemphill, Chief Registrar, will take place here on the campus. Mr. Hemphill succeeds the Rev. Frederick Fehrenbacher, C.P.P.S., college vice-president, who supervised the registration last year.

Register In Parlor

The parlor, opposite the Dean's office in the main building, will be the scene of the registration between the hours of 7:00 a. m. and 9:00 p. m., Monday. Should these hours or the location be changed, an announcement regarding the change will be made.

It will be necessary for each St. Joe registrant to specify his home address in order to have his draft card forwarded to his local draft board. If the college appears on the registration card as the home address, the registrant will be subject to call from the Jasper County Draft Board.

Exempt from registration under the law are the enlisted members of the Naval and Marine Corps Reserve and federally recognized, active National Guardsmen.

Peace Tridium Starts

Dedicated to the attainment of a just and lasting peace will be the Tridium that is to begin here Friday morning with Holy Mass and is to end with benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, Sunday night.

Students are requested to attend Mass, benediction and a period of adoration on each of the three days.

Rehearsals Underway For New CLS Drama

Work on the C.L.S. production, "Richard of Bordeaux," which is to be presented March 17 and 22, was begun last Monday night in the College Theater under the direction of the Rev. Paul Speckbaugh, C.P.P.S., Moderator.

The evening's activities consisted of play reading, for a deeper understanding of the general outline

The male cast is as follows:
Mautelyn Harry Roehrig
Richard II Ralph Parker
Duke of Gloucester Jack Patton
Simon Burley Robert Bower
Duke of York Clifford Riede
Michael de LaPole
..... Frank Stodola
Earl of Arundel William Gay
Archbishop of Canterbury
..... John Schlereth
Robert de Vere Thomas Fagan
Henry, Earl of Darby
..... Ben Nance
Thomas Mowbray Key Kennedy
Montague John McCabe
Rutland George McGuan

and theme, following out of the forces of conflict, and character studies to assist the cast in their portrayals.

Two Academy students, Richard Hermann and Michael Cody, will play the parts of pages.

Literary Club Hears Father Speckbaugh

The Rev. Dr. Paul F. Speckbaugh, C.P.P.S., chairman of the department of English, spoke at the Rensselaer Library to the Ladies' Literary Society Friday evening, Feb. 6, on the subject "Madonnas."

Curtain Club Plans Play For Mid-April

Sometime in mid-April the Curtain Club will offer its second dramatic contribution of the present school year, said the Rev. Robert Koch, C.P.P.S., Moderator, at a meeting held Sunday in the College Theatre.

"Although the time was short," Father Koch said, "the club can look back on a very successful last semester. My sincere wish is that this semester will be just as successful, and I know it will."

President Clem Kuhns then spoke on the general topic, Catholic Action. He stressed the important part the members of the club could play in the Catholic Action program.

Freshmen To Elect New Class Officials Soon

Because of the withdrawal from school of three former class officers—president, Bob Burns; vice president, Frank Knisely, and secretary, Bob Hogan—Henry Kauffman, former treasurer of the freshman class, has become president and only remaining officer of that class.

Kauffman has promised an election soon to fill the three vacancies.

CLS Elects R. Parker

At a special meeting Wednesday evening, February 4, the C.L.S. held an election of officers. The following were selected: president, Ralph Parker; vice-president, Francis Kinney; secretary, John Singletary; treasurer, John Schlereth; and critic, Tom Fagan.

In the name of professors and students of St. Joseph's, STUFF extends sympathy to John McGaharan, college sophomore, on the death of his sister.

Brother Dave Marks Fortieth Anniversary In Community

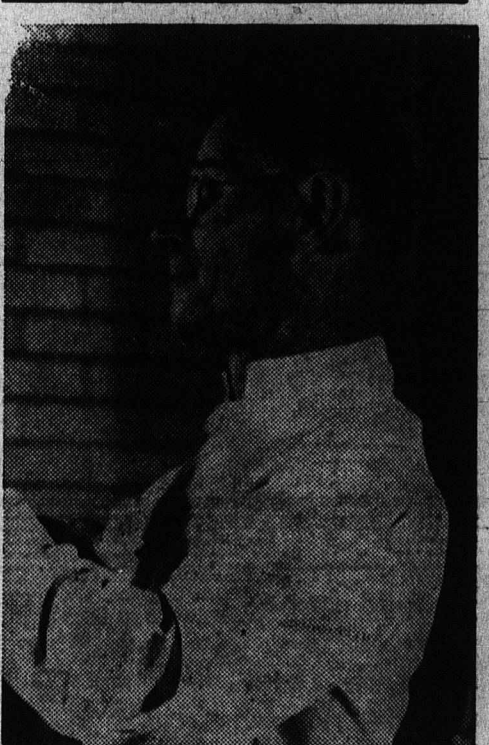

Brother Dave Schneider, C.P.P.S., proprietor of the college barber-shop, marked his fortieth anniversary in the Community, Sunday, February 8, by smoking two cigars that evening instead of his customary one.

Brother Dave arrived on the Collegeville campus in 1894, only three years after the institution opened its doors for the first time. He has been here ever since.

Born in Saekingen, Germany, on the Rhine, Dave Schneider came to America as a boy of sixteen. He went to Hamilton, Ohio, which he still refers to as his home town. From there he came to Collegeville where he studied and worked in the office of the Messenger Press, then located in what is now Drexel Hall.

On Feb. 8, 1902, Dave Schneider journeyed to Burkettsville, Ohio, to make his profession and become Brother Dave.

To alumni and students alike Brother Dave is part of the tradition of the place. Old grads return and go down to the barbershop to get a trim from him. And sometime in the years to come the scene which many students will remem-

This Is War

When the first flashes of the treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor reached America there was an immediate increase in the number of persons attending Mass, receiving the Sacraments, and participating in nightly Benediction. The fervor of the moment lasted until Christmas vacation began. After vacation, however, there was a noticeable decline in the attendance at Mass and the Sacraments.

Because human nature naturally seeks the strong and the comforting when a crisis presents itself, there was a marked increase in outward devotion after December 7. Then, when the awful realities of that day became obscured with passing history, attendance at Mass and the Sacraments dropped back to its usual level.

There is nothing remarkable about that fact. There is something lamentable. But nothing remarkable. It just seems that it takes a great crisis or disorder to bring some people back to God. We think it is a weak love that must be born of fear.

Just because the moment seems safe and secure is no good reason to neglect the God Who seemed so important that afternoon of December 7. In less than another year some of us will be in the front lines or on the high seas, where death lurks in every passing minute. We cannot nope to build strength and bravery when that moment comes. The building must be done before.

There should be a continued march back to God, not only because we fear death but because God is all-powerful, all-loving. Only with Him and through Him—by frequent attendance at Mass and the Sacraments—can we ever hope to build up that strength we shall need in the days to come.

Lent Starts Next Week

Next Wednesday is Ash Wednesday, the beginning of the Lenten season. Since this year may be the last for a time where some of us can participate fully in the lenten program we should be firmly resolved to make the most of our opportunities. Let us remember the weekly Class Mass Days that were appointed last semester. Let us remember that nearly half a hundred Masses are said on the campus each morning, that Benediction is held every evening after supper, and that the doors of the Chapel are never locked through day or night.

Following the Flickers

With Dick Schreiber

There hasn't been an official word from the judges on the winners of the Academy Award's coveted Oscars. But the insiders say that the work of picking the winner is already done. They say it will be the much-talked-about "Here Comes Mr. Jordan."

"Here Comes Mr. Jordan" started out to be a second-rate feature. It might have ended that way, as so many pictures do, if the motion picture audiences hadn't caught the whimsicality of its fantasy.

We'll be awfully glad if "Mr. Jordan" takes first prize and gets the Oscar for 1941's best motion picture. There have undoubtedly been bigger, more lavish productions. There have been better casts and characters more dramatically handled. There have been stories that had a greater dramatic punch. "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" was just a little piece out of a dream we all once had. And because we like to dream—even when we're older—"Mr. Jordan" found the right place in our hearts.

Even the critics were touched. Those hard-boiled personages raised the homely little "B" picture to the status of a first-class production. Then they stuck their chins out and dared anyone to challenge the change. No one ever did. No one ever will.

RITZ: Friday & Saturday—Here's another one of those pictures about the newspaper world. This time about the most "glamorous" portion of the newspaper game, the foreign correspondent. It's called "Confirm or Deny," and stars Don Ameche and Joan Bennett. Legion Rating: A-2.

RITZ: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—Maybe this writer is a little prejudiced because he comes from down where the darkies and the darky music are. We think, though, that you will really enjoy "Birth of the Blues," with Bing Crosby, Mary Martin, Brian Donlevy, Jack Teagarden, and Rochester. Legion Rating: A-2.

You see, it was like this: A negro down on the levee heard a trumpet moan. He felt it way down, deep in his shoes. He started humming to himself and shuffling his feet. That's how the blues were born.

PALACE: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—"Hellzapoppin," with Olsen and Johnson, is one of the craziest productions in the history of modern theatre. The picture keeps much of the stage play's farcical scenes. That means you'll get a big, deep laugh from this show. Legion Rating: A-2.

RITZ: Wednesday and Thursday—Gracie Allen and Wm. Post, Jr., appear in "Mr. and Mrs. North," another screwball detective story. You may like this if you're not tired of Gracie's dumb antics. We are. Legion Rating: A-2.

❖ Campus Capers ❖

The Raleigh Club dance is now stacked in the memory book of most along with a note that 'We Ought to Do This More Often'... To start the ball rolling a big book of orchids to Father Kroeckel for his push behind the clambake...

Robert X. Farrell, a junior—which means he has spent three years here, has topped those three years with a crowning glory of dating a local girl... AND there is a story behind that... But Bob's roommate, Al M. ('the Brain') Hurley got lost at the shuffle... next time we suggest a stake rope...

Bill Roman took over in the confederate generalship—but t'isn't true that Walsh planned the strategy... And did you notice that sax player on the end, Hyland by name, with that semi-bored look on his pan... In case you want to know, he was merely passing time till Friday the 13th... And if you want to know what comes then ask "All Alone and Lonely" Sudrovec...

Wally Spaulding again spiked 'Five-Word' Bladel by taking the refugee from the Ritz ticket window... While Resin Pants' Kindig showed possibilities of crooning opponents to sleep via song... And we overheard that Bullock didn't have to worry about having San Quentin Quail on his hands... count it up again and it can't be the fifth grade you were in...

The crowning event was taken after the late Mass when one of the fellows took a short cut down the steps by missing about three of 'em and really hitting that last one...

We were rather surprised and shall we say rather disappointed in the choice of the magazines made in last week's question of the week... Surely there are others more important during this time of war... Now is the time for all good residents of Indiana to speculate on their high school championship and many an argument will be heard around and about in the next few weeks...

So we come to the end of this, and as Charley Hankish said as he tried putting on Clark's pants... "This can't go on"... and so we leave you strictly off the cob...

What's Your Favorite Band? Asks Inquiring Reporter

By John Ford

Helping Americans to remember to "Remember Pearl Harbor," has been a task that popular bands all over the country have not neglected.

Yet, bands were on the minds of us Americans long before those "incidents" and "dastardly acts" came along. Before, during, and after a war people in this country can still sing, still dance, still enjoy an abundance of wholesome pleasures.

After receiving several requests, STUFF this week went to the students and asked them to name the bands that are first on their hit parade. Here they are:

James McKenna, freshman from Terre Haute, Ind., selected: 1. Glenn Miller. 2. Dick Jurgens. 3. Kay Kayser.

A sophomore, Jack Kelley from Peoria, Ill., picked: 1. Sammy Kaye. 2. Kay Kayser. 3. Fred Waring.

John Feicht, another sophomore, who is from Canton, Ohio, praised these music makers: 1. Fred Waring. 2. Kay Kayser. 3. Glen Miller.

Ed Fleming, a senior from Gary, Ind., chose: 1. Glenn Miller. 2. Fred Waring. 3. Dick Jurgens.

A junior, Bob Burkhard from Springfield, Ohio, elected: 1. Glenn Miller. 2. J. Dorsey. 3. Fred Waring.

Ray Heitzman, a sophomore from Evansville, Ind., preferred: 1. Glenn Miller. 2. Charlie Spivak. 3. T. Dorsey.

A sophomore from Portsmouth, Ohio, Vasco Luchi, liked: 1. Glenn Miller. 2. T. Dorsey. 3. Sammy Kaye.

Carroll Hoyng, a sophomore from Coldwater, Ohio, selected: 1. Glenn Miller. 2. Kay Kayser. 3. Jan Savit.

Ralph Mueller, a sophomore also from Coldwater, liked: 1. Glenn Miller. 2. Charlie Spivak. 3. Artie Shaw.

And so it seems that Collegeville men would place the crown on the head of the "Moonlight Serenade" man. The "Old Professor" is not too far behind.

Senior Sketches

By John Feicht

One of three seniors from South Bend, Indiana, is Joe Laskowski. Joe started his collegiate career at Indiana University. He transferred to the Collegeville institution at the semester of his freshman year.

Biology is Joe's major subject. Chemistry is his first minor. After he receives his bachelor of science degree in the spring, Joe will under all probability continue his education by either entering a medical or a dental school.

As for the draft, Joe is very unconcerned. He feels that he will be able to complete his schooling. He is, however, willing to fight for his country if the call should come.

Joe received his high school education at South Bend Central Catholic. In those days he found time to participate in both the sports of football and basketball. While here Joe has concentrated on the mental activity and left the physical for the other fellows.

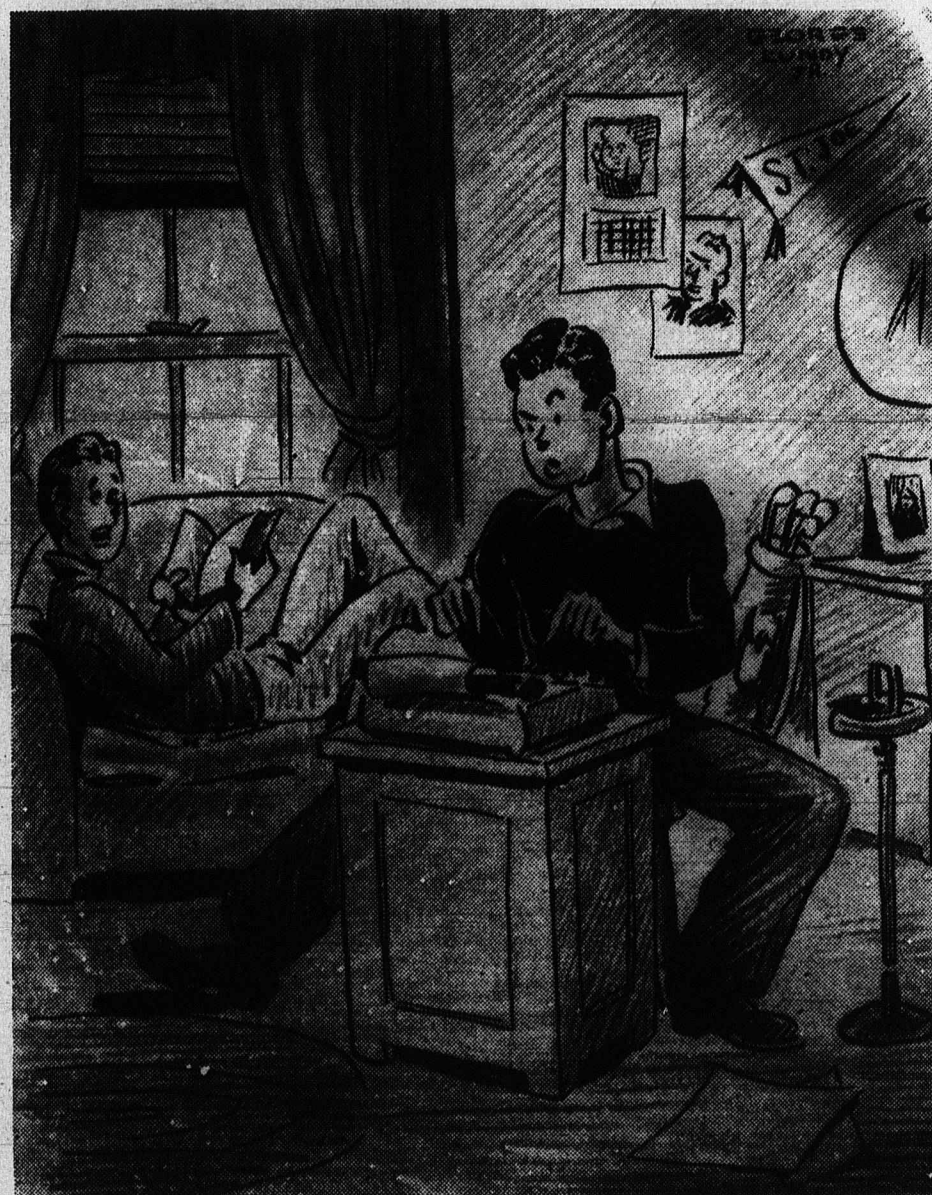

Professors In Accident

Last Saturday, while on their way to the drawing for the basketball tournament at Ft. Wayne, Fathers Roof and Martin and Cub Coach Dick Scharf met with an accident about three miles west of South Whitley, on road 14.

The car in which they were riding skidded on the icy pavement and went off the road into a ditch of water. Father Roof injured his back slightly; Father Martin received minor abrasions; while Dick's constitution was shaken up.

Puma Boxers Entertain Illinois Tech

Puma Prints

By Bill Carlos

School spirit at St. Joe has hit a new high pitch. Against Rider, Valparaiso, and Millikin, loud and incessant cheering lent support to the Pumas' second-half rallies which meant victory in all three contests.

It is easier said than done, when the game is nip and tuck, that students should refrain from making excessive noise while a visitor is shooting a free throw. If it is done here the Pumas have the right to expect the same consideration on the road.

St. Joe's thrilling victory over James Millikin was the Pumas' seventh straight victory in the new fieldhouse since its dedication.

Here And There

The state collegiate boxing meet held this year on March 14 at Valparaiso, may be held at St. Joe next year.

Over 90 million people attended basketball games in the U.S.A. last year.

Bob Heiny, newcomer to the freshman team this semester, played on the Ft. Wayne Central Catholic national championship teams of '39 and '40. Bob was chosen all-national Catholic last year when Ft. Wayne came in fourth at Chicago. Incidentally, this colorful sporting event of the past twenty years will not be held this year because of the war.

Of interest to high school basketball fans is the fact that the state Catholic tournament is likely to be discontinued after this year. Catholic schools will be eligible to take part in the public school eliminations next year.

Drexel Hall outpuffed Gasper on the big floor in the prelim last Saturday night, 19-11.

Gus Doerner, Evansville eagle-eye, is some sixty points ahead in the state scoring race. Bernie Hoffman of St. Joe is in sixth place.

We wish to extend our humble apology to the freshman net team for slipping up on the Butler-St. Joe frosh game.

Pugs Fight Friday In Local Fieldhouse, Meet Purdue Monday

There'll be mitt-tossing galore in Pumaland this week. The Puma Pugs will be host to the two toughest teams on their schedule in facing Illinois Tech Friday night and Purdue the following Monday.

Revenge will be the issue in Friday night's bouts, as the St. Joe punchers dropped a 4-2 verdict to Tech in Chicago, Jan. 23. Purdue nosed out the Pumas, 4-3, in a thrilling night of fighting up town last year.

Ready to face the firing line for St. Joe are the following fighters, according to Coach Hod Parker: Pat O'Brien, heavyweight; Jack Runchey, 165 lbs.; Jack Stenger and Vasco Luchi, 150 lbs.; Bill Carlos and Charley Klapheke, 145 lbs.; Chauncey Cavey and Dick Kindig, 140 lbs.; Capt. Bob Cavey, 135 lbs., and Charley Riedel, 130 lbs.

Runchey and Riedel are additions to the team since the Valpo victory last week. Their presence gives the squad a wider range of weights, which lack has limited them to fighting only six bouts instead of the usual eight in their first two meets.

Fighters Take Valpo

St. Joe's fighting pugilists laid the leather fast and furious to Valparaiso's squad last Wednesday night to win their first match in two starts, 4-2. The fights were held at Valpo.

In the curtain raiser, St. Joe's Dick Kindig lost by decision to Al Bruss in the 138 division. The Valpo judges claimed violation of intercollegiate rules.

Klapheke Ties Score

Charley Klapheke, working very smoothly in his first collegiate bout for the Pumas, tied the score with a KO in 1:35 of the second round over Valpo's Bill Hindrick. Klapheke's victory was in the 147 pound class.

Chauncey Cavey gave his opponent, Hans Hansen, an edge of five pounds in the 147 division but had little trouble in punching out a decision.

Weighnig 155, Bill Carlos, the Pumas' only southpaw, worked like a veteran to take a decision over Elmer Nicholson. Carlos drew blood early in the fight and kept his opponent on the run for three rounds.

Captain Bob Cavey, at 139, outpointed Al Ansoorge at 147 to give the squad a 4-1 lead. Cavey worked cautiously on sure ground to get his man and the decision.

In the main event of the card in the heavyweight division the judges gave Valpo's Ken Welrop a decision over Pumas' Pat O'Brien. Welrop scored points in the opening of the first round, but then O'Brien found his range.

Pumas Lose To Indiana State On Fieldhouse Floor, 49 - 40

Indiana State's highly touted cage squad subdued a late Puma threat last Monday night to clinch a 49-40 victory over St. Joe. State had run up a comfortable lead at the half and held the margin throughout.

Fred Stetlow, State's outstanding guard, put on a one-man scoring act in the first half. His fast breaks and consistent hitting accounted for 15 of the 26 points scored in that period. The Pumas had to fight hard for possession of the ball and had trouble getting shots against the famous Curtis airtight defense. Bernie Hoffman cracked through to score four goals in the period for the home five. His ball stealing had State puzzled.

The Teachers played consistent ball at the opening of the second half. With seven minutes to go the Pumas, behind 41-33, opened their only threat of the game. Hoffman and Huysman hit successfully.

Then the Pumas lost Knobby Walsh on fouls. Stetlow scored for State and followed Walsh to the bench on fouls. Vanderkolk, Gutgsell, and Huysman were sent from the ball game in like manner. Percy hit twice to increase the lead. With four of the Puma starters on the bench, the rally was checked. Final score: State 49; St. Joe 40.

St. Joe Wins From Millikin

In the game against Millikin, Feb. 7, St. Joe's Huysman works the ball in under the basket. Nobby Walsh and Bernie Hoffman are in the background.

St. Joseph's cage squad won a last-minute thriller over James Millikin University 43-41 last Saturday night in the St. Joe Fieldhouse. St. Joe came from behind a 28-21 halftime margin to win.

Millikin led throughout most of the second half. The Puma Big Boy, Jiggs Huysman, tipped in a rebound to tie the score 40-40 with a minute and a half to go.

Ritter Sews Up Game

Knobby Walsh put the Pumas ahead 41-40 with a charity toss. Tex Ritter sewed up the ball game by taking the ball down the floor to score with fifty seconds remaining to play.

Knobby Walsh led the scoring for the home team with five and five for a 15-point total. Wagner led Millikin with a total of 12.

Dance At Joliet

Five of St. Joe's glamour boys will hit the road to Joliet this coming Friday to attend the Sweetheart Ball, sponsored by St. Francis College. Those attending the dance include John Hyland, Ed Fleming, Joe Beall, John Schlereth and Wally Spalding.

Thursday Night Tilt Followed By Meeting With Central Normal

St. Joe's Pumas will take on their sixth conference opponent tomorrow night (Thursday) as they face Wabash College on the Crawfordsville, Ind., floor. This is the first match of the two teams this season.

Coach Joe Dienhart has put conference concerns in the back seat this season because of the extensive schedule. To date the Pumas' record puts them at a favored advantage over Wabash.

At Central Normal

On Tuesday night, Feb. 17, the squad will appear in Danville, Ind., against the Warriors of Central Normal. St. Joe defeated the Danville five, 57-46, in their previous engagement this year.

Normal's coach, Hank Miller, has an all-senior starting lineup in Jackson, Younger, Shaw, Bailey, and Bell. These starting veterans boast a six-one hairline average. This is Miller's first year as mentor of the Central Normal cage squad.

St. Joe will play a Golden Jubilee game for the Temple of basketball fund against Chicago Teachers' College in their next home appearance on Saturday, February 21.

A program is being prepared to be put on during the half commemorating the early style of the game in contrast to the modern methods of play.

Cubs Meet Hammond C.C. Friday Night, February 13

Victors over Catholic Central of Hammond, 27-24, in an overtime earlier in the season, the Academy Cubs will meet the Calumet five twice more before the season ends. The two teams will tangle Friday night at Hammond, and they are also pitted against each other in the first round of the state Catholic tournament at Ft. Wayne Feb. 20.

Because of bad roads St. Paul high school, Odell, Ill., had to postpone their game against St. Joe, which was to be played in the fieldhouse last Sunday afternoon. The game has not yet been rescheduled.

Captain Brading leads the Cub scorers with 163 points, more than one-third of their total of 474. They have held their opponents to 470 points, considerably less than the 594 rung up against them at the 18-game mark last year.

Frosh Take Indiana State In Preliminary Tilt, 30-26

Avenging a defeat earlier in the season, the St. Joe frosh basketball squad whipped Indiana State freshmen, 30-26, Monday night on the Pumas' home court.

After a slow start the Sycamore frosh took a 3-point lead which they lost when two rapid buckets by Charlie Hodge put the Pumas ahead. The Indiana State boys never had the lead after that. St. Joe forged ahead at the end of the first half and led, 20-12, when it ended.

State outscored the St. Joe team by 6 points in the second, but fine floor play by Bob Heine and Gil Hodge kept St. Joe out of trouble. Gil Hodge led the St. Joe team with 13 points. Bremer paced the Sycamore attack with 7.

The freshman team has won two and lost three games thus far this season. They play their final game of the season Friday night, Feb. 13, with Indiana Tech, of Fort Wayne, on their hardwood court. They defeated Tech earlier in the season.

War-Time Catches Students Napping

Morning arriver an hour late last Monday only to beam upon a sleepy Collegeville. V Some of the students were caught napping. As a result attendance at the first and second class periods suffered. Instead of "All out for defense," it seems the motto was "All in for Joe Student."

Despite a twice-read warning by the Rev. Norman Koller, C.P.P.S., dean of students, that the boys were to set their clocks ahead an hour before retiring, many of the students blissfully dozed off to dreamland with nary a thought of such matters.

It is reported that Drexel's dorms hit the jackpot with twelve out of twelve slumbering through. But the boys from Xavier Hall came through one hundred percent, although the way was a bit foggy and the eyelids a bit heavy.

It seems that the students will have to accustom themselves to arising in a semi-midnight atmosphere, at least until spring arrives and brings the sun up a little earlier. Meanwhile, all will revel in an extra hour of daylight by the courtesy of the Government of the United States of America.

Nick Hoffman Observed 62nd Birthday Sunday

Nick Hoffman, custodian of Science Hall, just pushed his engineer's cap a little bit farther back on his head Saturday evening at five o'clock and knew that when Sunday morning came he would be sixty-two years young.

Nothing much happened Sunday: Mass, a quiet day, and a quiet evening while the few who knew of his birthday congratulated him.

Monday morning, with a bucketful of sweeping compound in one hand and his broom in the other, Nick went back to sweeping out the rooms and corridors of the Science building. Being sixty-two was just like being sixty-one—or even forty. It doesn't make much difference when there's work to be done.

I-M Basketball Games

In the Inter-Hall games of last week, Gasper beat Drexel, 27-22 and Noll, 52-47. Drexel toppled Seifert, 31-19, and Noll, 44-16; Seifert and Noll Halls both took Xavier, 31-20 and 22-20.

In Noll Hall, Bissler won over Vernon, 26-20, and Vernon beat Kauffman, 20-17; Kauffman rebounded to lick Ploszek, 25-18. Cooney, in an overtime, also took Ploszek's measure, 20-18. In Drexel Boyle outpointed Shine, 33-25, as Wleklinski lost to Fleming on a forfeit, 2-0, and to Krol by a 26-22 count.

Runchey of Seifert remained undefeated as he eked a 28-23 win over Daily; Bullock licked Piotrowski, 45-31; McKenna, 30-26; and Daily, 23-21. Kelly won over Feicht, 25-11; then Feicht took a 2-0 forfeit from McKenna.

Weather On Rampage

Within 24 hours, 2.40 inches of rain fell and one-half inch of snow covered the Collegeville campus when storm weather broke across Indiana last Friday and sent creeks and backwater racing across the highways.

The rain, which began with a blitz of lightning and a terrific assault of thunder early Friday morning, was the heaviest downpour here this year, said official government observer, Clem Kuhns.

The Academy Corner

By Wehrle and McElroy

Perhaps the incident that brought the most joy to the academy this past week was the trip to Fowler Saturday afternoon to have the seniors' pictures taken. The most distressing incident that could have taken place in the academy was the losing of our top-ranking senior and business manager of the year book, Max Schmidt. Max, who was spending his fourth year here, will be unable to continue school because of sickness at home. We all wish him the best of luck.

Another new face made its appearance in the academy this week in the person of Roy Etzkorn, who hails from Chicago.

Among the notables appearing on the campus lately was academy alumnus Joe (Mopey) Albers of Cincinnati. All the old students remember him as the "rack 'em upper" of the Jr. Pool Room.

In the dorm. Three minutes to get out of here.

In the study hall. Mind your own devotions.

In the smoking room. Get your feet off those chairs.

Ten Years From Now
General Pete Moran and his troops have just made a valiant stand against overwhelming odds in the battle of Mantino.

Lefty Gavin entered Peoria trade school as a freshman.

Bob Greene seen flashing by on a box car.

Dave Clemens has successfully defended his world's bantamweight boxing championship for the tenth time.

Last Sunday Pete Moran, academy senior, stricken with appendicitis, underwent an appendectomy at the hospital in Rensselaer. We are happy that his condition is reported as good.

Minute Observations
This past week the senior class enjoyed their semi-monthly town night. Most of the seniors took in a show.

Bob Schmelter's smiling countenance took top-ranking honors at Fowler Saturday.

The first round of the reorganized IM league is over. McNamara's team captured the round by defeating Moran's team in the play-off, 31-23, after both teams had been tied at the end of the round. Showing no prejudice, we pick Mac's team to win the second also.

The Rev. Edward Roof, C.P.P.S., president of the college athletic board, talked to the students last Thursday night, Feb. 5, about the student trip to Fort Wayne. There were only fifteen men certain of going. Since the varsity has played 500 ball this season, it would seem that they stand a good chance of making a good showing in the Fort Wayne tournament.
